What is UniEats?

01

UniEats is a business conglomerate consisting of multiple popular restaurant chains partnering and functioning under one building.

02

UniEats aims to satisfy the hunger of all students in the Newark area by fixing the problem that is accessibility and options all centered in one area.

03

UniEats will provide a necessity through different types of food services and food businesses, united in one building for all the university's students and faculties to access.

Our Vision

01

Our vision stands to be the unity of food spots in one place to bring forward a community from all the different schools and provide a dining experience that brings them the variety most food spots lack.

02

The mission is to provide inter-university food access to all surrounding students in the University Heights area. We've partnered with local dining businesses to provide a variety of popular food branches for the customers and patrons of UniEats.

03

We ensure adequate food quality, safety, and overall cleanliness. Our staff collaborates at every level in an organized manner to ensure good service for our customers.

Financial Objectives

01

UniEats will utilize a focused-differentiation strategy model as it will allow us to provide a high-quality produce and food service to the customers of Uni-Eats.

02

With the produce being supplied by a franchising grocery business on campus, we are ensured to provide high quality ingredients to UniEats customers when eating at any restaurant chain. We buy our products at wholesale prices, then sell to the public at reasonably acceptable prices.

SMART GOALS (STRATEGIC)

01

CUSTOMER COUNT: Reach an annual customer count of 2,500 individual Rutgers students within the first 12 months of operations, tracked via POS data and student ID integration.

02

03

CAMPUS EXPANSION: Expand UniEats services to two additional Newark campuses (e.g., NJIT, Essex County College) by Quarter 1 of Year 3, measured by the increased customer base of varying student IDs.

04

MEAL PLAN UTILIZATION: Achieve 40% of all Rutgers off-campus meal-swipe usage through UniEats by the end of Year 2, which would be tracked based on financial reports from Rutgers and also our own student ID integration system that would check the varying students that come in and how much they spend.

05

GROCERY FLOOR LAUNCH: Fully launch and operate the UniEats grocery section by the end of Year 3, measuring it through the readiness of our operation and potential customers we would have come in.

SMART GOALS (FINANCIAL)

- 01 NET PROFIT MARGIN: Increase UniEats net profit margin to 10% by the end of Year 2, measured through monthly financial statements and annual income reports.
- 02 OVERHEAD REDUCTION: Reduce combined restaurant overhead costs by 15% within the first 12 months by implementing shared utilities, bulk purchasing agreements, and energy-saving equipment.

- 04 TOTAL REVENUE GROWTH: Increase total annual revenue by 20% over the next 24 months, measured by comparing monthly revenue reports through the year and see our positioning.
- 05 WASTE REDUCTION: Reduce supply waste and inventory shrink by 10% within the first 12 months using weekly tracking logs and inventory audits.

Clan Culture & Why it's right for UniEats

01

Explanation: Clans thrive with collaboration, which is something that paints the whole idea of UniEats and being an organization that works together to provide the gift of variety through collaborations.

02

We want to be flexible for us as owners and our collaborators can be happy and successful with the conditions that we want to bring in through clan culture. As a whole, clan culture embodies all the proper conditions we want to have, which is why we plan to utilize it

How will we establish clan culture?

01

Flexible work options: In our business, managers will allow flexible work options, such as adjusting schedules or temporarily shifting roles when life events happen. This approach shows employees they are respected and trusted, and in return, they will be more motivated to take care of the business and support their coworkers.

02

Celebrating achievements: We will recognize and celebrate team accomplishments when we accomplish certain tasks and reach milestones. Examples of this could be if a restaurant is celebrating its first anniversary with our business, we will celebrate them and the workers through a party-like celebration.

03

Open Communication: We will maintain open communication through regular check-ins, designated times for employees to raise concerns, and a dedicated email channel for feedback.

04

Mentorship and training: Newly hired employees will be trained by experienced employees. They can experience how to handle certain tasks, fulfilling customer orders with care, and day-to-day activities while also building new friendships and meeting those within our clan culture.

05

Employee Recognition Board: An employee recognition board allows us to acknowledge the hard work and effort of our staff. Managers will use it to highlight employees who go above and beyond, such as providing excellent service or stepping in to help coworkers.

Efficiency & Effectiveness Control

01 Effectiveness Control (Output Focused)

Measure: Weekly customers count per franchise

Standard set: 100 people entering and purchasing from each franchise within UniEats.

Why it works: Since UniEats prides itself on the variety it offers, the main point of difference that it offers is checking if the franchises are bring in customers and providing them variety. it's important and can be measured through the traffic each franchise gets. We can also establish which franchises to be promoted more or provide a different approach to customer satisfaction.

Method: Through the use of Cameras and sensors, the customer traction can be measured and check through employees being put to monitor and ensure that the measure is met.

02 Efficiency Control (Resource/time Oriented)

Measure: Order Time/ Wait line

Standard: Average 10-15 minutes per ticket.

Why: The shorter wait times would overall allow more people to enter and interact with the different franchises while also ensuring customer satisfaction through quick wait times for them to enjoy their products.

Method: Barcodes, Sensors, and POS manual observation. These methods could be checked through the machines and set up a manageable information system that stores and can average in order to check how long wait time was for the orders and how we can fix it to fit our standards.

New Products and Services at UniEats

01

Loyalty Program:

- Implementing a loyalty points program would allow customers to connect more personally to the business and feel welcomed.
- This service is to provide a better connection/relationship with our customers and by that standard, give them a sense of inclusion.

02

Goal:

- The variety we provide will only expand through our new idea and therefore allows them to try even new features our business can offer. UniEats continues to value both the variety we offer and what we can provide to customers.

USA Expansion: Raising Capital

01 Raising Capital:

In consideration of the different franchises that UniEats will work and collaborate with, it must be considered that licensing would be far too risky if given to anyone who isn't competent enough to maintain the relationships set and manage properly so many franchises.

02

Due to this, Raising Capital would be the best option to ensure our reputation stays high and we are able to choose managers who have the competence to manage multiple franchises under one roof. In support of raising capital, power would also be centralized and UniEats would stay in trusted hands that don't pose much risk of being exposed to any sort of bad light.

US Expansion: Problems and Solutions

01

Challenges:

- Finding suitable and experienced managers that can run, understand, and manage a multi restaurant operation within UniEats.
- Expanding means also customizing our product and offerings to accommodate the different customers that are in the different parts of the United States.
- Finding suitable employees and managers who can fill the varying requirements that support our organizational culture. Similarly, the struggle of introducing the concept to different franchises in order to attain support.

02

Solution:

- UniEats will prioritize personal behavior and characteristic evaluation to determine optimal hiring of a competent manager or employee.
- Extensive research will be done to ensure that in expanding across the US we ensure a variety of food that will receive a proper welcome by customers based upon eating habits in the regions we will expand to.
- We will also maintain a reputable name to ensure that we can ensure collaborations regardless of where we expand and offer consumers that variety all over the US.

Global Expansion: Mode of entry

01

Licensing/Franchising:

The main issue with licensing when it came to US expansion was the fact that not any manager could be entrusted with food choices. In licensing globally, US managers would be out of their reach, and therefore we would need whoever licenses from us, in terms of globally, to be properly educated in cultural values and the preferred foods of that country.

02

Local managers from that globally expanded country would be able to have cultural adaptation and understanding, while also having knowledge from locals while also portraying a low risk based on it being outside the US. The investment would be a medium investment to support it going in the right direction and ensuring UniEats stays reputable, and also possibly growing an audience abroad.

Global Strategy Choice

01

Multi-Domestic:

- UniEats thrives off its variety, and therefore, a multi-domestic approach would offer something that can be familiar to those who prefer it but can also offer a new stance in countries that can now experience all sorts of new foods and franchises.
- Cultural differences require customization, and so in ensuring that, the multi-domestic approach would ensure that products are customized in accordance with what's culturally acceptable and aligns with the beliefs of the country.
- It would ensure that there's no market mismatch and reduce backlash for unacceptable foods being put for sale, depending on the country.

Why UniEats wins

01

UniEats serves to solve a real and widespread problem on college campuses: the lack of convenient dining variety for students.

02

Using a Focused-Differentiation strategy, we provide diverse food options, a WholeFoods-style grocery floor, and seamless meal-swipe integration, making us more accessible than traditional dining halls and more convenient than options that are scattered all over. By prioritizing choice, partnering with multiple vendors, and working directly with university systems, UniEats becomes the go-to for students.

03

Our model drives consistent traffic, strengthens vendor relationships, and expands easily to nearby schools. The goals and standards set also aim to keep our growth and innovation steady to ensure students get the best variety from us. The result of all these factors is the expansion, growth of customer-based equity, and recognition all throughout, which can only push UniEats to win, both in the business world but also in the hearts of students all over.

Thank You
